

Damaged Screen Pixel

A damaged pixel on a controller screen indicates the controller needs to be replaced. Unfortunately, we do not offer the screen as a separate controller part.

The controller has a two-year warranty past the date code in the wiring compartment. This can be applied to the original point of purchase to be exchanged or warranted through the installation contractor.

If the unit is outside the warranty period, Hunter makes our products and replacement parts available through our network of authorized distributors. Click on the link below to find an Authorized Hunter Distributor near you.

Distributor Locator [1]